ONE OF THE FIRM GOES INSANE.
Shortly after this discovery of the firm's low financial standing was communicated to the members of the firm by Mr. Horwitz, Saturday last, one of them, Augustus fi. Levy, fell in a fainting fit, and he has since been unable to recognize anyone.

His family physician and three well-known alienists held a consultation on Mr. Levy's case Jesterday, and have declared that his mind is totally unbalanced, and that he is, in fact, rendered hopelessly insane.

Daniel W. Herrman, of 476 Broadway, a memoer of the importing house of R.
